Two-Story House Is Destroyed in Woodstock Blaze

Fire Discovered at 1 A.M. by Walkers of Lower Byrdcliffe Road; Little Saved

Woodstock, Sept. 14. A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the two-story frame and stone house of Mrs. Vera Walker on the lower Byrdcliffe road early this morning. Fire Chief Reginald Lago said that Mrs. Walker and her son, Bruce, were awakened by the smoke and the roar of the flames at about 4 a. m. and when they looked out, they saw the rear roof of the structure in flames. The blaze had gained too much headway for effective work by the Woodstock Fire Department, but firemen remained at the scene for about two hours fighting fire.

Kingston Home Bureau, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Matthew J. Cully, 116 Downs street, will begin one of its most active seasons, that for 1948-49, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the new headquarters, 410 Broadway. All interested workers of the city are invited to attend the opening and other sessions of the group. The regular meeting day is the second Thursday of each month.

The new meeting and work space is in the former city commissary near the city hall. Use of the location was granted by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who said today, "I am happy to have the Home Bureau in our new quarters. I know this early interest forecasts a most successful year."

Raised Own Funds

A committee in charge of Mrs. Hubert Hoderath, 120 West O'Reilly street, recently decorated the commissary. Money for the required materials was raised through a cake sale and a rummage sale. Mrs. Cully today said, "They all did a wonderful job. I know this early interest forecasts a most successful year."

Mrs. Smith Wins In Maine; Calls Vote 'Wonderful'

Payne Is Named Governor and Three Are Chosen for Congress; 3 Towns Democratic

Portland, Me., Sept. 14 (AP)—Rep. Margaret Chase Smith won a Senate seat with two new records: majority and percentage—in yesterday's Maine election—another Republican grand slam. She and other G.O.P. leaders hailed the results as indicative of a smashing victory for the Dewey-Warren ticket in November.

The 50-year-old Senator-elect called her vote "wonderful" and "forerunner of a great Republican national victory x x x."

First Republican woman elected to the Senate, Mrs. Smith also is first of her sex elected without first having served by appointment.

In the seventh straight G.O.P. clean sweep of top offices, Republicans also named a governor and three congressmen.

Unofficial tabulations of practically complete returns gave Mrs. Smith 154,687 votes and Dr. Adrian H. Scott (D.) 61,837. Mrs. Smith's majority—92,850—bettered a 29-year-old record of 82,481, set in the 1928 gubernatorial contest.

Her percentage, 71.4, was 1.1 per cent over the previous mark set by Gov. Horace Hildreth four years ago when the total vote was less than in 1928.

The gubernatorial results: Frederick C. Payne (R.) 131,718; Louis H. LaSalle, Democratic mayor of Hallowell, 73,974.

Rep. Robert Little won a fourth term in the first district with a vote of 52,347 to 31,498 for James A. McVicar, former Democratic state chairman.

Charles P. Nelson, mayor of Augusta, won Mrs. Smith's second district seat, beating Benjamin J. Arena, 49,550 to 23,931.

In the third district, Rep. Frank Bellows was returned to his fifth term, polling 35,697 votes to 14,366 for Democratic National Committeeman E. Davis Clark.

1,000 Men Wounded in Pakistan

Indian Casualties High on First Day of Invasion of Nizam's State

War Is Asked
Demonstrators Demand Conflict Be Declared With India

Karachi, Pakistan, Sept. 14 (AP)—A communique from the Hyderabad defense ministry said today Indian troops suffered 4,000 casualties on the first day of their invasion of the princely state.

(An Indian Army communique issued in New Delhi this morning said one Indian column, in western Hyderabad, had lost 100 killed and 150 captured.)

On the northern front, the communique said, the forces of the Muslim Nizam recaptured one village within eight hours after Indian troops took it. An earlier communique received here last night said the Indian advance had been stopped on all fronts.

Today's bulletin said the Indian forces opened 10 fronts in their first onslaughts yesterday and that the forces of the Nizam and the Razakars (a private Muslim volunteer group) are evaluating all Muslims from border villages to the interior.

The Hyderabad radio gave the distance of the penetrations by Indian troops thus far as: Southeast—10 miles; West—four and a half miles; Northeast—eight miles.

Today's Indian communique said columns spearheading from East and West had reached points within 100 miles of Hyderabad City, the state capital.

Last night's communique gave no details, saying only that Indian troops could make no headway.

The Indian troops marched across the Hyderabad borders at 4 a. m. yesterday to put down what the Indian government called anarchy in the big, south central state. The troops have orders to garrison the state pending a decision as to Hyderabad's future, perhaps by plebiscite.)

When the word spread in Karachi, the capital of Muslim Pakistan, that Indian troops had invaded Hyderabad there were immediate demonstrations calling for Pakistan to declare war on India. Hyderabad's population of 16,000,000 is about 80 per cent Hindu, but ruled by a Muslim Nizam who has resisted Indian efforts to bring his state into the Indian union.

Hyderabad is entirely surrounded by Indian territory. The "Karachi" demonstrators shouted "Nizam Zindabad" (long live the Nizam) and "Indian Uthao" (Drive out the Indians).

Apparatus Was Presented by Company; Will Number Houses for Calls

Hurley, Sept. 14.—The Hurley Fire Company's gift to the fire district, a white Chevrolet fire pump, is now entirely paid for, it was announced last night at a meeting of the fire commissioners.

The announcement was made by Chief Winfred Snyder on behalf of the fire company president, Harry Skerritt. The retirement of outstanding indebtedness on the part of the volunteers was made possible through the recent carnival held on the school grounds in this hamlet.

The truck was purchased from government surplus and is equipped with accessories purchased by the commissioners. Included is the latest type fog nozzle.

Stanley Matthews, secretary of the board, was instructed to send a letter of thanks to President Skerritt on behalf of the district.

Steps toward procuring an auxiliary tank truck to accompany the pump to fires were approved by the commissioners. The board also voted to dispose of the original pump, which is disabled and parts for which cannot be obtained.

The commissioners also voted to send Chief Snyder to the Fire Chiefs' School at Inlet September 24 and 25.

Zoning Is Underway
Chief Snyder asked support of the commissioners for the zoning project for the district and requested that the board purchase house numbers for all dwellings. This was approved and this work will go forward early this autumn.

Also present at the meeting were the board were Treasurer Eugene Morehouse, Chief Snyder and former Secretary Lowell Brooks, who retired in January after five years' service.

Kamen Reiterates Statement He Gave No Atomic Secrets

Physicist Also Declares House Committee Won't Get Any Either

Washington, Sept. 14.—Dr. Martin D. Kamen, a nuclear physicist, today repeated his statement that he never has disclosed any atomic energy secrets to unauthorized persons.

Further, he said, he would not disclose any atomic energy information to the House Un-American Activities Committee members unless the Atomic Energy Commission assures him "committee members have been cleared for access to such restricted data."

Kamen, now a professor at Washington University, St. Louis, was dismissed from the atomic bomb project by the army in 1944. He was called for questioning by the House Committee today at a closed session in its investigation of alleged atomic espionage.

Before the committee met, the scientist told reporters at a news conference that he would refuse to answer any committee questions. He said he is "prepared to answer in public hearing any and all questions the committee may ask."

He accused the committee of having "already released to the press derogatory innuendoes about me." He said he has "nothing to conceal."

Repeating his insistence that he is "not a Communist, never has been a Communist," Kamen said in a prepared statement: "I am fully aware of the regulations applying to atomic energy information and I solemnly declare that I have never revealed in the past, nor do I intend in the future, to reveal such information to unauthorized persons."

Kamen said he never was told why he was asked to resign his wartime atomic position, except that he understood he was suspected of some indiscretion in connection with his scientific research.

The 35-year-old scientist was co-discoverer of the radioactive carbon tracer now being used in medical and biological research. He now is an associate professor of chemistry at Washington University and is head of the university's medical school X-ray clinic. He was a staff chemist of the University of California Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley.

First Draft Call Asks 623 Men From All Boards

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters issued a tentative first draft call today for a total of 623 men from all New York boards, exclusive of New York city.

Brig. Gen. Ames T. Brown, state director of Selective Service, explained he issued the tentative call so that local boards would have an indication of the number of registrants they will be required to send for the first preinduction physical examination.

Brown said local boards already were mailing questionnaires to eligible draft registrants, starting with 25-year-old men and working down to younger men. Registration began Aug. 30. National Selective Service headquarters will mail the call.

President Assails Congress For 'Smear' of U. S. Scientists

Washington, Sept. 14 (AP)—President Truman assailed Congress from a new quarter today with a charge that "some politicians" are endangering the nation's safety by "smear" tactics against scientists.

The House Un-American Activities Committee—which he did not mention by name—was the obvious target of Mr. Truman's assertion that atomic experts are being driven from the government in these "hazardous times" by "totalitarian" and "un-American" procedures.

General Gives Thought U.S. Would Not Talk Big Problems While Blockade Exists

Says Reds Lost

Glaser Says Violence Is Sign Soviets Are Losers

Berlin, Sept. 14 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today: "I don't think war is just around the corner."

The U. S. military governor made the statement to American newsmen who came to Berlin on a special air force flight from the United States to view the British-American air lift operation supplying Soviet-blockaded western Berlin.

Clay added he doubted the Russians "will make Berlin the final issue on the entire German problem."

The American commander predicted that before any forcible actions were attempted to break the 82-day-old Soviet blockade, the U. S. would exhaust "all other means at its disposal" to reach agreement.

Clay declined to discuss whether or bringing the Berlin question before a council of foreign ministers would mean "negotiation under duress."

He left the impression, however, that the U. S. at least would not be prepared to discuss any other larger German issues with the Russians at such a conference before the blockade was lifted.

A veteran American military government official declared today Russia and Communism have already lost the political battle for Berlin. As a last resort, he said, they have taken to rioting and force.

The Soviet-licensed news agency A.D.N. said the Germans who took part in the disorders that followed Thursday's giant anti-Communist meeting here had been sentenced to 25 years in prison.

ADN said there is no appeal from the sentences, which were "times against public order, the lives of peaceful inhabitants and the Soviet occupation troops."

The American official, Louis Glaser of Washington, D. C., and Brookline, Mass., is retiring as chief of the Civil Administration and Political Affairs Branch, Office of Military Government for Berlin.

Leaves for U. S. Wednesday
Glaser leaves tomorrow for the United States after serving in Berlin since the beginning of the joint occupation in July, 1945. He told newsmen three years of "daily shirt sleeve negotiations" with the Russians had been tough, but confidently asserted:

"The Russians and Communism have proved themselves morally, ethically and ideologically bankrupt in Berlin."

"The proof of this lies in recent events," he said. "They now have descended to rioting and resorted to force against democratic procedures to seize control which they could never gain otherwise."

Glaser said the battle for Berlin was not yet over, but he asserted: "Now the issue is plain and the lines are drawn for all the world to see. The Russians are going to have to talk turkey on the highest levels in Washington, London and Moscow."

In Moscow, informed observers looked for a climax sometime this week on the four-power talks over the Berlin crisis. Whether the talks end in success or failure, appeared to hinge on what takes place at the next meeting of the East-West diplomats at the Kremlin, perhaps tomorrow.

Clay said the next step, if the Moscow talks fail, would be to bring the Berlin crisis before the United Nations Security Council as a threat to peace.

Speaking of the Soviet-sponsored drive for withdrawal of all occupation forces from Germany, the American commander said: "This could become very popular in Germany, but not now. Fear of Communist domination is very great. The Germans would be very glad to see the Russians go."

FIRST MONTH OF SCHOOL
The first month on any new job is important as well as interesting. Going to school is a job, just as keen and necessary to the young person as Dad's job is to him. In fact, it's really just as important to the family to have the young people do well at their school jobs as to have Dad do well at his. There is no immediate money coming from Johnny's and Susan's school jobs, but growth and power come from them. And if Johnny and Susan are successful and happy at their school jobs, the whole family life gets a lift.

So being industrious and intelligent about the school jobs means much. Parents have responsibilities about these jobs, too. Have the children been looked over by the doctor and the dentist and the eye doctor? If not, this ought to be done on one of the very first Saturdays. If a child is not hearing well or his muscles do not coordinate as they should, he is at a disadvantage with the others. Usually these disadvantages can be cleared up in short order while students are young. Seeing is terribly important to the student—he gets so much learning through his eyes. And don't let any silly superstition about girls and glasses deter the parent from having Susan's eyes examined. If Susan needs glasses but doesn't wear them, her face will soon be drawn, lined, strained before her time. Glasses relax facial muscles along with relaxing the eye-strain, and Susan with glasses is far prettier than before.

Susan learns by looking at other girls' clothes. If Dorothy wears simple trim things, as a student should, which hamper neither work nor play but look attractive in line and color, Susan learns to prefer that kind to the beruffled and befuddled garments given some other girl by a mistaken mother.

That isn't school? Ah, yes, it is, for it's life and school is life. A nation is made of its grown-ups. Good citizens make a good nation. Good young citizens grow into good grown-up ones. Make a good and great America, young folks, by giving all you can to the job of this school year and learning all you can from every phase of it.

It is not too early to plan your Christmas shopping. The National Jewelry Fair at Chicago has just featured cigarette lighters made from palladium, a metal like platinum and a hundred times rarer than gold. The lighter will cost a mere $365. There's plenty of time to look for something else.

EXCITING FINALE
Except for confirmed partisans of the teams in the lower sections of the standings, no baseball fan could find fault with the excitement offered by the closing weeks of the season in both major leagues. Coming up to the final tilts, in each league there were three teams which had to be considered as contenders for the pennant.

As if this were not satisfying enough for the fans who above all else love a good contest, both Boston teams have provided additional sparkle for the tag end of the season with their determined effort to give their city its first exclusive World Series.

The turf is said to offer the sport of kings, but the diamond this season can be said without reservation to have offered sport of a quality fit for kings. In many a major league city this season baseball news has been able to crowd out other and weightier, though less happy, news out of the front-page headlines.

It is an unhappy commentary on the morality of Americans as automobile drivers that many communities find it necessary to detail police cars to follow school busses to ensure that traffic will stop while they load and unload.

ADS & TAFT-HARTLEY
The Paper Box Makers Union, Local 299, International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, A.F. of L., published what is meant to be a sarcastic advertisement against the Taft-Hartley Act. I do not choose to read it in the tone of serio-comedy with which its authors gild it. Rather I prefer to take it seriously, which is perhaps not so pleasant for its authors.

This is what they say to Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley:
"We're grateful to you because your law inspired such unanimity of conviction and brought out the true strength of our Union. It enabled us to overcome the vigorous and continuous opposition of many employers in our industry to the establishment of an industry-wide HEALTH and WELFARE FUND, for which our new contract provides. This fund, paid for solely by our employers, will provide us with sickness and disability aid, hospitalization, surgical care, life insurance and other benefits."

Quite so. It was under the Taft-Hartley Act that an election was held by the union and that 99 1/2 per cent of its members voted for the union. There is nothing in the Taft-Hartley Act that encourages such action by union members; all that the Act requires is that provision shall be made for an honest election in which the members are not coerced by professional labor barons who have come to regard the labor unions as their private businesses, if not as personal rackets.

The Paper Box Makers, in their advertisement, go further:
"1937. A great portion of the New York Paper Box Industry (unorganized) paid most of its workers $10 to $12, with a substantial number paying $6 to $8 a week."
"1941. In over 50% of the industry (unorganized) the over-all average was $17.20. In union plants the over-all average was $22.40."
"1948. WAGE increases under the new industry-wide agreement (55% organized), effective September 1, will establish an over-all weekly average of about $47, plus a Welfare Plan, 8 paid holidays, and extended vacation provisions."

"Our new agreement establishes minimum standards of $36 for semi-skilled, and grades up to $63 for skilled workers. Many workers are paid in varying sums above their required minimums, and in the higher brackets a fair number reach $75 to $85 a week. Peak wages reach as high as $100."
These increases, the 1948 ones, were arranged during the existence of the Taft-Hartley Act. Every item during the year 1948 was arranged under the law which this advertisement means to treat sarcastically. Nothing in the law prevents unions and employers from making such arrangements, provided the negotiations do not degenerate into economic blackmail.

The Taft-Hartley Act is, as a matter of objective fact, a greater protective to the working man than the Wagner Act, because while it safeguards collective bargaining, it also protects the worker against exploitation of professional labor careerists and from such Communists as have invaded the labor movement and who use it not in the interest of the American worker but to further the aims of the Kremlin. No matter what the opponents of the Taft-Hartley bill may have said about it, James Carey, Secretary of the C.I.O., has established the infiltration of Communists into American trade unionism and the fact that they put the Kremlin before the United States and even the interests of union members.

Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley should be grateful for the Paper Box Makers Union advertisement. It explains how beneficial the Taft-Hartley Act has been. Yet, after proving by the facts the value of the Taft-Hartley Act to this union and its members, it states in its advertisement:

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Drew Pearson

Washington — If war should come to beleaguered Berlin, the men at the top of the U. S. Army today are among the most competent, human and civilian-minded that this newsman has seen around the War Department in many a year.

This appraisal, by the way, comes from a long-time and vigorous critic of the brass hats. Responsible for this new deal around the Pentagon Building are General Eisenhower and his successor, modest Omar Bradley. It is important for the American public to know that when the dapper boys of the Air Forces and the drop-the-bomb-now men of the Navy gather at joint Chiefs of Staff meetings, there is always present one calm conscience who never forgets the 300,000 G.I.'s buried under white crosses from Guadalcanal to Sicily.

Take off his uniform and Omar Bradley looks like a college professor. He is quiet, gracious, generous, good-natured and basically a very plain person. Everybody who ever worked with Bradley remarks on his simplicity. His mess sergeant in France had orders never to use Bradley's name to wangle food for headquarters. Once during the historic landing at Normandy, Bradley, then a 3-star general, took off his field jacket and handed it to a shivering corporal.

"Here, son," he said, "it will be easier for me to get another than it will be for you."

Bradley studies like G.I. Bradley has so monotonously pluggd away for the little guy both in war and peace that he is almost taken for granted. Typical of his quiet manner is the fact that, after being appointed Chief of Staff, but while waiting to be sworn in, he took two months of refresher courses at the Pentagon side by side with other officers. They report that Bradley was never late for class, took careful notes, shined many a colonel or one-star general by his promptness and interest, compared with their casual attitude.

It may have been because Omar Bradley was from Moberly, Missouri, that President Truman picked him to be veterans administrator, later chief of staff. If so, this geographical coincidence was the good luck of the American people. However, it was not luck which put Bradley at the top.

When a youngster he worked for the Washburn Railroad; being poor yet anxious for a college education he applied to his congressman for a West Point appointment. To take the examination in St. Louis, he had to promote a pass on the Washburn.

Eisenhower's Classmate
Bradley was graduated from West Point in the class of 1915. Another famous member of that class was Dwight Eisenhower of Kansas. Ike ranked 100th. Bradley ranked 44th. Perhaps this rather low rating should not be cited in the month of September, when several million American youngsters are reluctantly going back to school; so, in passing, it might be noted that General MacArthur graduated No. 1 in his class of 1903.

Bradley's start in the recent war was none too happy. He commanded the 28th Division, ordered in part by Republican politicians from Pennsylvania. Senator Ed Martin was commanding general, later relieved (for age) by Bradley, while Jay Cooke, one of Stassen's hot supporters, was a battalion commander.

After various difficulties with the 28th Division, Bradley stepped up to command a corps under General Patton in Sicily, later became top commander of the European Theatre, entrusted with carrying out the strategy of General Eisenhower and the allied chiefs of staff. He faced some tough problems.

Battle of The Bulge
One of them was getting along with temporary grandstanding Field Marshal Montgomery. Bradley had no regard for Montgomery's lack of nerve and reluctance to advance. But realizing Montgomery was a symbol to the British people, he said no word against him.

Bradley got part of the blame for the Battle of The Bulge, and toward the end of this battle Montgomery, his rival, was given command of part of Bradley's forces. However, the inside fact is that it was Montgomery's stooge, General Strong, who served as Bradley's chief intelligence officer, plus Gen. Eddie Sibert, an American, who claimed the Germans could not possibly attack in the Ardennes.

Only his close friends know it, but Bradley himself was worried before the attack, took a trip down to the Saar to talk it over with "Old Blood and Guts" Patton.

Outlook at Present Is That Governor Dewey May Become Minority President in Popular Vote
By DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington, Sept. 14—Despite the general expectation that the Republican party will poll a comfortable majority in the electoral college, it may be said at this writing that it looks very much as if Governor Dewey will be a minority president. He may be elected by less than a majority of the popular vote.

Careful examination of the public-opinion polls thus far published shows that even in New York state the combined Wallace and Truman percentages are greater than that of Dewey. In Missouri, where the Wallace party has been kept off the ballot, Truman shows 52 per cent to Dewey's 48. It will be said that Missouri is the home state of Mr. Truman, but New York is now the home state of Governor Dewey. "Favorite son" popularity doesn't seem to make too much difference in presidential voting. Thus, Al Smith carried New York for governor three times but did not carry it when he was a presidential candidate in 1928.

Governor Landon was popular in Kansas, but did not carry it for president in 1936. What this means is that, when the tide is rolling in one direction or the other, the "favorite son" attachment does not cause a state to vary significantly from the tide. There are indications that the tide which is keeping Truman at 52 per cent in Missouri is rolling somewhat similar in other states. It would not be surprising at all if Mr. Truman carried many of the western states, clear out to the state of Washington. Where there is a big Wallace vote, as in California, the electoral vote will go to Dewey.

Why should the western states show such a decided preference for Truman while the eastern states look more Republican? The answer may lie in the fact that the western states are agricultural. Farm income is at unprecedented heights. Back in 1916, the "peace and prosperity" slogan swept most of the west for the Democratic nominee, Woodrow Wilson, while Charles Evans Hughes, Republican, swept all the northern states east of the Mississippi except Ohio and New Hampshire. If it were not for the Wallace wedge driven into the Democratic Party in the north and the civil-rights issue splitting the Democratic Party in the south, Mr. Truman might now be winning the 1948 election by a comfortable electoral vote. Had Mr. Truman signed the Taft-Hartley Act and the tax-reduction bill, he might have swung enough Republicans to his side from the independent ranks to offset the "Left Wing" or Wallace sort of desertions.

Mr. Truman's own strategy or lack of it will count him the election. The country is still predominantly Democratic, and he logically could have had another term of office. It will be contended that the labor split-off would have been greater if Mr. Truman had not vetoed the Taft-Hartley Act, but this seems doubtful, inasmuch as the labor unions would not have gained any more by a split-off than Wallace is gaining this year. There is no dividend in being a faction which splits one's own party and makes it easier for the opposition candidate to win by a minority of the popular vote.

The trend toward the Republican party may have reached its peak in November 1946. There is real danger for the Republicans that this year they may lose control of the Senate. For the western agricultural states look Democratic this time, and that means a tough road for Republican senatorial candidates. In fact, it is in the western states that the presidential nominees are preparing to do most of their campaigning in the west. The possibility of Republican losses in the Senate from Iowa, Wyoming, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Idaho are conceded among Republican leaders. This would not be the news in September if the Republican tide were running high in the western states.

The campaign is not now the clinch for the Republicans that it is being made to appear by the probable landslide of electoral votes. Maybe by November they will have a better trend. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT
By WESTBROOK PEGLER
New York, Sept. 13—The relationship between Ben Pross, the underworld liquor racketeer, and Max L. Simon, a crooked publisher operating around Passaic, N. J., is a fine example of collusion among criminals flaunting the banner of "labor" and labels of the A. F. of L. It is not unusual, sordid but merely typical of the morals and practices of underworld unionism under government protection.

Pross controls absolutely several unions in the liquor trade in New York and New Jersey. In addition, however, as executive manager of the New York Food and Beverage Council, he generally controls the conduct of 22 local New York unions of the A. F. of L., claiming 75,000 members. The members are captives with no practical right to withdraw from membership, demand their constitutional rights or criticize.

Pross's union, Wine Liquor Distillers Workers' Local No. 1, an American citizen would be guilty of disruptive impudence in demanding permission to read the constitution. Pross does not even possess the rights of citizenship. He can't vote or serve on a jury. He came here from Russia at the age of 12, acquired citizenship automatically under the laws at that time, but irresistibly followed his natural criminal bent and therefore went to Atlanta prison for four years. He had arranged to move new goods out of back door of a Sunday store, at night, sell them cheap in a store run by a member of his family in another part of town, and throw the first store into bankruptcy. Thus he lost the rights of citizenship but, nevertheless became the padrone with a terrible power over thousands of Americans.

Simon began as a city-side cub reporter and if he had not been a crook by nature he might have been a valuable citizen. He had ability, energy and intelligence. Advertisers and politicians fear his scandals and when he got two professional arsonists to burn out his Elizabeth Daily Times in 1931, he served less than ten months, meanwhile doing his editorial work from an office in prison. In view of the facts his release was outrageously premature. On top of that, he was restored to citizenship.

In March, 1942, Simon swore he had ten papers. Like the number and identity of the unions controlled by Pross, the number and names of Simon's papers fluctuate. They are hardly more than names. He can change the Passaic Sunday Eagle into the Passaic Sunday Eagle by changing the top-line and the mast-head. There is no reliable directory of A. F. of L. unions in New York. Only four of the locals formally named in the roster of 22 unions comprising the Food and Beverage Council are listed in the telephone book.

That Simon should have served his entire term of three years for hiring the firebugs to burn out his Elizabeth Times and should have been denied the rights of citizenship thereafter will be plain from the facts. He hatched the scheme. The initiative was his. Here are excerpts from the statement of John Chichello, made on June 29, 1933, to Sgt. Theodore Morgan, of the Teaneck, N. J., police department: "He (Simon) said, 'I am hooked up to my neck.' Simon asked how much it would cost to make a good job out of the building by having it burned. I asked him how much he had in insured for. He said between $30,000 and $40,000. He then said 'I must have this place burned down. It is the' Continued on Page Seven

Q—Does Alaska have the dial telephone system?
A—Alaska's first dial phone system was recently opened on Kodiak Island. The exchange was dedicated with a three-way conference call linking Kodiak, Chicago and Washington, D. C., over a 3,840-mile circuit, the longest civilian telephone hookup ever made across the North American continent.
Q—What is a cubit?
A—An ancient measure of length, originally the length of the forearm, from the elbow to the end of the middle finger, thus making it about 18 inches.
Q—Do snakes travel in pairs?
A—Neither venomous nor non-venomous snakes travel in pairs and there is no scientific foundation for the common notion that if a snake is killed its mate will soon appear and seek vengeance on the slayer.
Q—Who was the first Poet Laureate of England?
A—In 1519 James I secured the services of Ben Jonson, by granting him by patent an annuity of 600 marks for life. With Ben Jonson, therefore, the laureateship became an established office.
Q—What is the difference between a melody and a harmony?
A—Melodies are produced by notes in succession; harmonies are produced by notes in combination.

First Four-Power Parley Since August 30 Convenes

Moscow, Sept. 14 (AP)—The three western envoys went to the Kremlin today for a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

This was the first four-power meeting in Moscow since Aug. 30, when U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chataignier and special British Envoy Frank Roberts and Molotov and his deputy, Andre Vishinsky on the Berlin question.

The three westerners met among themselves just before they went to the Kremlin. The new meeting followed the return of Francois Seydoux, French political adviser in Germany, with reports on the talks held in Berlin by the four military governments.

The three envoys left for the Kremlin together, from the U. S. embassy, where they had been meeting.

Prime Minister Stalin was not present at the Kremlin meeting, another in a long series of four-power talks which began the end of July.

Following the session, the three westerners went to confer at the British embassy, an American embassy spokesman said.

by Robert Ortale appeared for the defendant and a plea of not guilty was entered. Bail was continued and the case was set down for September 30.

An indictment charging Ignazio Borsina with violation of Section 1897, Sub. 4, was dismissed. Ralph Mowle, charged with grand larceny, second degree, involving the taking of a car, told the court he did not desire an attorney and wanted to plead guilty. The plea was accepted and sentence will be pronounced at 10 a. m. on Wednesday.

The case of William Silas Gray, grand larceny, first degree, went over the term as Gray is being detained at present by the Erie county authorities. The case of Harold Dore, abandonment, also went over the term.

Ernest Cesana pleaded guilty to unlawful entry on May 26, last, and will be sentenced on Wednesday at 10 o'clock. Frank Capochiaro appeared and asked that a burglary charge be dismissed. Granted.

Remanded to Jail

Justin Wright was arraigned on charge of abandonment of children on April 19, 1947. He said he was working in New Jersey earning $55 to $60 a week but had no funds to engage an attorney and Robert Ortale was assigned. The case was set down for September 30 after a plea of innocent was entered. Wright was remanded to jail.

Several other cases were put over to Wednesday for disposition.

Wrong Advice

William Savercool of Elmira and Everett Aldrich of Theresa, N. Y., were arraigned on a charge of escape from Wallkill Medium Security Prison on July 11, 1948. Both had been brought to Ulster county from Clinton State Prison where they are now confined.

Asked if they desired an attorney prior to pleading to the charges, Savercool said he did not need an attorney, all he wanted was "to get back to Dannemora." He said he was guilty of "breach of trust." He said an attorney at the prison gave him this information. Judge Cashin stated that the information given by the cell block attorney in Dannemora was not in accordance with the law or the interpretation of the law by the courts. He advised Savercool and Aldrich that they were entitled to an attorney and said he would assign one. If they were not represented by counsel prior to pleading, they would be sent to jail.

Several other cases were put over to Wednesday for disposition.

Bermuda Clears Away Debris; No Lives Are Lost

Miami, Fla., Sept. 14—The honeymoon and vacation resort of Bermuda cleared away debris today in the wake of a severe hurricane that lashed the area with winds of 123 miles an hour.

No loss of life was reported and property damage was not extensive, according to reports.

The hurricane had winds of 140 miles per hour in a small area near the center and heavy squalls and gales extended outward 200 miles from the center.

It whirled northward at 16 miles an hour and the Weather Bureau said it probably would make a slow curve to the north northeast, accelerating in a forward movement.

All shipping in its path was advised to exercise extreme caution as the disturbance roared toward the busy North Atlantic shipping lanes.

Chief Storm Forecaster Grady Norton said at Miami the hurricane apparently would pass out to sea without any effects being felt along the U. S. coast.

ion Laboratory at Berkeley, Calif., for nine years before going to St. Louis.

Questioning by F.B.I. agents since, he said, has convinced him his dissent from the Army is the result of a dinner he had in San Francisco restaurant in 1944 with the Russian vice counsel and the vice counsel's successor.

Kamen said he plays the viola in string quartets. Through friends in San Francisco who are musicians he met a number of consular officials. One of them, he said, asked him to put the consulate in touch with Dr. John Lawrence at the University of California because of work Lawrence had done in treating leukemia with radioactive material.

The Russians said a consular official in Seattle was suffering from leukemia. Kamen said Lawrence told him later he had given the Russians information which was general medical knowledge at the time.

Kamen said the conversations at the dinner with Russian consular officials was mainly about cultural relations between this country and Russia.

The Russians, he added, made no effort so far as he could see to get unauthorized information from him.

Kamen said he then shared the opinion of one world-famed scientist, who had declared in 1937, that there were no industrial or military possibilities in atomic energy.

He told reporters he did not have access to information on the progress being made in developing the atomic bomb.

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R.-N. J.) said committee investigators are seeking a man described as a Canadian-trained electronics engineer for questioning. He said the man may be in Canada or Russia.

Another Truckers' Strike Threatens In New York Area

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—A strike by another large A.F.L. truckmen's union local was threatened today, after many of the drivers of the city's biggest local who struck two weeks ago had reached agreements with operators.

The new strike threat arose yesterday when truck operators turned down new demands for a wage increase of 25 cents an hour and by the 4,300-member Local 282 of the A.F.L. Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Officers of Local 282 estimate that 2,000 of its members have been off the job in unauthorized walkouts in sympathy with Local 807 which struck September 1.

After the demands for the 25-cent rise and other benefits were rejected, spokesmen for the operators said Local 282 probably would "call out its men."

An employer offer of 15 cents an hour increase was turned down at a meeting of Local 282 officers yesterday, although the local was reported to have authorized its negotiators to agree on 15 cents below the Local 807 struck.

After the meeting, John O'Rourke, Local 282 president, said the new demands included several welfare benefits in addition to a 25-cent increase.

The demands also called for a $1-a-day differential for night work and similar differential for day men operating windlass trucks.

An operator spokesman said the demands probably would cost the employers a total of 32 to 35 cents an hour per man.

Local 807, which has scaled its demands to 17½ cents an hour increase and a hospitalization benefit paid for by the employers, announced yesterday it had signed contracts at the 17½ cent figure with independent truck owners employing nearly half the local's 9,400 members. John E. Strong, local president, said 633 firms had agreed so far to the local's reduced terms.

Under old contracts, which expired August 31, the pay for a 40-hour week ranged from $53.90 for helpers to $71.40 for trailer-truck drivers.

Despite the agreements between Local 807 and independent operators, the five major truck owner associations continued refusal to boost their 15-cent offer.

ries to match changes in the police state's propaganda line."

He said what after Mr. Truman spoke, Dr. Philip M. Morse announced that he had resigned as head of the Brookhaven National Laboratory partly because of the "atmosphere of suspicion" against atomic scientists created by the House group.

Morse said in Belmont, Mass., that he had quit the atomic post July 17 to return to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology physics professor. He emphasized that he is in full agreement with the necessity of investigating workers on atomic projects for security reasons, but he assailed the House committee's "manner" of investigating.

Morse was among eight scientists who wired Mr. Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, G.O.P. presidential candidate, last week that "inexplicable sneers" by the Thomas Committee are "an imminent threat to our national security and entire governmental research program."

Mr. Truman told the science gathering last night that Americans should avoid tactics which impede research, whether they are adopted with good intent, or advocated in the name of security. He said the other axes to grind and red herrings to drug around.

The President has repeatedly described hearings by both the Thomas Committee and a Senate investigating subcommittee headed by Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) as "red herrings" intended to divert public attention from high prices.

There were five separate demonstrations outside the house of Prime Minister Jawahar Lal Khan and several other large public meetings, at which speakers condemned the invasion and pledged full support to the Nizam.

All Indian personnel in the Indian office and the all-Indian staff of the post and telegraph department in Hyderabad, operated by the Indian government, were reported under arrest.

A late report from Madras said Hyderabad had been cut off from all outside communications to Indian points.

In Bombay, Hakim Azami Sahib, official of an Indian Moslem group, asked Pakistan to keep Hyderabad out of the Arab union.

"To Moslems of the Indian union," he declared, "Hyderabad is nothing but a tottering edifice of British imperialism in India and to interpret the Hyderabad affair as an Islamic struggle is nothing but a political fraud of the most immoral texture."

The Hyderabad government was seeking to enlist the help of the Arab league. It has asked the United Nations Security Council to meet within three days to consider action in the matter.

Connection Is Suggested

Athens, Sept. 14 (AP)—Greek newspapers suggested today that the "plotting" of a Greek plane at Salonika Sunday by six Communists may have some connection with the murder of U. S. Radio Correspondent George Polk. Polk's bullet-pierced, trussed-up body was found in Salonika Bay last

To Plan Christmas Lighting for City

The Retail Merchants' Committee of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Chamber office at 2 p. m., Wednesday, Sept. 15. Arthur London, chairman, has called this meeting to work out plans of procedure for the city-wide Christmas lighting project. Several persons closely connected with the project last year have been invited to help make the plans.

The committee would appreciate suggestions regarding the lighting project. At present suggestions regarding the best set-up would be timely. A lighting project committee will probably be set up to work out the details. Several specific suggestions regarding the details of the arrangement of decorations have already been made. All recommendations should be made before the committee executes a contract.

The Retail Merchants' Committee consists of Chairman London, Herman Rafalowsky, George Schneider and Henry Singer.

disturbed at the withdrawal of our army.

"We set out to have a very different job in Germany anyhow," Clay continued. "I don't know what the hell we came for in the first place if we are going to get out now."

Asked whether the combined British-American army maneuvers in Bavaria had proved anything, Clay branded as "ridiculous" reports that the operation simulated defensive action against a Russian invasion.

Asked if the western allied forces in Germany were strong enough to fight such an invasion, Clay said:

"If we were waiting for an immediate war with the Soviets, they would not be adequate."

Clay said negotiations among the military governors here had "not been broken off, just suspended by mutual agreement to resume on call. They may partially be returned to Moscow."

No Evacuation Planned

Speaking of prospects for the winter, if the city remains under Soviet blockade, Clay said: "We may not be as warm as in the past, but there are no plans to evacuate the * * * children of the U. S. community."

The American commander said the allied air lift would not bring enough coal to Berlin for "adequate house heating" but that even so, the winter hardships would not be as severe as two or three years ago.

Asked if he thought Soviet hints they would interfere with the air lift would materialize, Clay snapped:

"I don't pay any attention to that."

Clay said he doubted the present Communist attempts to seize power in Berlin had been planned by the Russians to interfere with current four-power negotiations.

Later Col. Frank L. Howley, U. S. commandant of Berlin, told the newsmen the air lift had defeated "as powerful a blockade as ever had been attempted against a city."

He said the Russians had not only shut off food stocks, but also had seized fuel and even medicines "in anticipation that within two weeks the population would rise against the western allies and force us to withdraw."

Proposal Is Accepted

Paris, Sept. 14 (AP)—The United States and Britain accepted today a French proposal to place Somaliland, a former Italian colony in Africa, under Italian trusteeship. A conference source, announcing this, said the Soviet Union, which has agreed to a proposal for study by a committee of experts of any problems arising from the four-power meeting here. only thing that will save my neck. I told Max I didn't want to do this job as I had just got out of a scrape but he pleaded and told me if I got into trouble he would help me out."

Q.—Where did this conversation take place?
A.—Right in the newspaper office in Elizabeth. After that I went to the plant at least 20 times with Simon. He kept asking me to set the building on fire. He came to my home several times. I spoke to Vito Rizzuto about the job and I took him down to look over the plant.
Rizzuto threatened to shoot Simon for failure to pay him and Chirichello for preparing and starting the fire. He then disappeared. He was murdered near Patterson, N. Y.

Simon, Spinelio, Spinelio and Rosario Arcuro were indicted by the Putnam county grand jury on Nov. 4, 1933, on a charge of first degree murder.
The murder indictment alleged that Simon induced Spinelio and Arcuro to kill Rizzuto. The theory of the state of New York was that Simon wanted to silence a witness who might corroborate Chirichello and who apparently would kill him, Simon, for failure to pay him.
Spinelio went to trial but changed his plea to guilty of manslaughter, first degree, and got from 7 to 20 years, on April 19, 1934. He is believed to have been deported to Italy when he left Great Meadow prison.
Arcuro could not be found for trial but was found murdered in the Bronx on Aug. 20, 1934. The murder indictment against Simon finally was dismissed on the motion of John P. Donohoe, the district attorney. Among other things Mr. Donohoe had intended to prove that a green automobile with six wire wheels and a New Jersey license had been seen near the shack where Rizzuto was murdered at about that time. A New Jersey detective on the arson case told Mr. Donohoe that Simon's own automobile was green with six wire wheels. No motive was established for Spinelio's crime.
To return to Chirichello's story: Q.—What arrangements did Simon make about paying you?
A.—He promised us ten per cent of the insurance and he paid me $300 as an advance payment. This was to buy materials to set the place on fire. I bought 100 gallons of liquid colloid and 200 gallons of turpentine. After all this stuff was got together we put it in six barrels and moved it in my Chevrolet truck to the plant in Elizabeth. Rizzuto was with me. We moved the stuff into the plant in the morning and set the fire in the afternoon, October 17, 1931. Rizzuto and myself got tin snails and dipped them in the barrels and threw the stuff over the first and second floors. When we couldn't dip any more, we rolled the barrels over the floor. We spread about 30 yards of gauze bandage around and on one end of that we tied sulphur sticks. These sticks are usually used for purifying wine barrels. Then I went to one of the side walls where some of the Bx cable was exposed. I opened the cable and scraped bare the two wires and stuck a nail between the wires and gave it one twist and then stuck the nail in the wall. I had pulled the main electric switch before doing this. I then threw the switch in and went upstairs and lit the sulphur stick. Rizzuto and I left the building and walked to the street car for Newark. Before we left Elizabeth, we saw the fire and heard fire engines. I saw Simon out a week after the fire at his office at 1 William street, Passaic. (still his office, W.P.) and Simon said it could have been a better job.
Q.—What did Rizzuto do?
A.—He said if Simon didn't pay he was going to shoot him.
Chirichello was given immunity for his testimony and his unsuccessful efforts to lure Rizzuto back to New Jersey.
Simon frequently declares boycotts in his papers against certain brands of booze. He lauds Pross outlandishly, praising especially, his extravagant charity to the Runyon Cancer Fund. Investigation showed that this charity received just $200 from Pross in two years, all of it derived from testimonial dinners in his honor attended by employers and employees under coercion as well as by other gangster unionists and political riff-raff of the booze trade.

Proclamation

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has proclaimed Saturday, September 18, Air Force Day, urging all citizens of Kingston to join in expressing their appreciation of the contribution of American military air power to the present peace and their faith in air power as a guarantee of continuing peace and security. The proclamation follows:

Whereas, the President of the United States has proclaimed September 18, 1948, as Air Force Day to honor the air arm of the National Military Establishment; and

Whereas the United States Air Force on September 18, 1947 in the fortieth year of its history as the world's oldest military air organization, became an autonomous Air Force and is this year observing its first anniversary as an independent organization in the defense structure of our nation; and

Whereas a grateful citizenry, recalling the years of experience, of development, and of service that have produced its present capabilities and efficiency, recognizes the United States Air Force as one of the nation's most far-reaching weapons of defense;

Now, therefore, I, mayor of the city of Kingston, in order that we may honor the men and women of our Air Force for their contributions to the development of American aviation and to the growth of American air power, often at the sacrifice of their lives, and likewise recognize the service of those who in the armed forces or in the civilian centers of science, research, and production have aided in the building of our air might, do hereby proclaim Saturday, September 18, 1948, as Air Force Day in the City of Kingston.

I urge all citizens to join in the observance of this, the first anniversary of the United States Air Force, in the forty-first year of American military aviation, with ceremonies appropriately expressing their appreciation of the contribution of American military air power to our present peace and freedom and their faith in American air power as a guarantee of continuing peace and lasting security.

In witness thereof, I hereunto set my hand and cause the seal of the city of Kingston to be affixed.

Done this fourteenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-third.

OSCAR V. NEWKIRK, Mayor.

Gamble Says U. S. Has Gained In Housing Shortage Drive

Saranac Inn, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—The United States has gone "a long way toward liquidating the actual housing shortage," Rep. Ralph A. Gamble (R.-N. Y.) declared today.

The chairman of the Joint Congressional Housing Committee added that in two to five years there would be no shortage.

Gamble's speech was prepared for delivery before the annual convention of the New York State Savings and Loan League.

He attacked the government ownership and operation provisions of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill which failed to pass in the 80th Congress.

That measure, he declared, "would have permanently committed the United States to a national policy of socialized housing."

The public housing program, he added, "could not have begun to alleviate the housing shortage" before 1951. Under the housing law passed by the last Congress, beneficial results "are now and will be apparent in increased numbers before Christmas of this year," Gamble said.

Quoting Census Bureau figures, Gamble said the actual housing shortage at the start of 1947 was no more than 1,500,000 units. In 1946, he said, 670,000 dwellings were begun and 437,800 were completed, and in last year, 849,000 were started and 831,700 completed.

The Housing Committee chairman also cited figures which he said showed increased home construction in the first four months of 1948. Compared with the same period last year.

"You will see from all of the foregoing," Gamble declared, "that we have gone a long way toward liquidating the actual housing shortage. Even assuming a continuation of business at its present high level, this shortage will have been eliminated in a minimum of two to three years and a maximum of three to five."

He added, however, that "it is apparent to all of us that the housing problem is not settled." "Indeed I do not think it will be settled even when there is a surplus of vacant dwelling units," Gamble said. "It will not be settled for the simple reason that for 16 years the New Deal has disseminated a propaganda fog so that now considerable numbers of people erroneously regard slum clearance as housing and think of the word housing as being synonymous with that public housing which can be provided only through federal government ownership and operation."

Ralph H. Davies of Utica, executive vice president of the Homestead Savings and Loan Association, urged his colleagues to take advantage of the Federal Housing Administration's insured mortgage financing.

"We are loaning today on inflated valuations," he said, "and when the leveling off period arrives we might find ourselves with loans in excess of the true value of the property and be faced with losses beyond our ability to assume."

The inventor of saucer-shaped clay pigeons got his idea from watching boys skipping sea shells on water.

949 Apple Crop Expected to Be Big

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Agricultural Department predicted today the 1949 apple crop will be somewhat larger than this year and probably bring better prices.

With fair weather conditions, the department said, the crop could be larger than the below normal crop of 100,445,000 bushels estimated for 1948. It said current production is above average only in the western states, but only by one percent. That region is expected to produce 44 per cent of the nation's 1949 crop compared with 46 per cent last year.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said the average price received by farmers for apples on August 13, was $2.22 per bushel compared with $2.05 on the same date last year.

Production predictions this year for the main producing states are: New York 13,500,000 bushels; Pennsylvania 5,100,000; Virginia 3,000,000; Michigan 4,800,000; Washington 29,025,000; Oregon 8,822,000 and California 7,580,000.

Farm Prices Still Higher Than in 1947

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Farmers in New York received slightly less money for their products in August than in July but prices were still 14 per cent higher than those of last year.

The State Agriculture Department reported a mid-August price index of 280. This was five points lower than July but 34 points higher than the 1947 mid-August index.

The index is based on prices of 10-1944, equal to 100.

Mid-August prices of poultry, dry products and livestock continued higher than last year's figures while prices of grains and dry beans were lower, the department said yesterday in a joint federal report.

Farm operation costs in the nation as of August 15 remained about the same as the preceding 10 months, the report said.

Negro Boy, 6, Does Well With New Esophagus

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 13 (AP)—A six-year-old Negro boy has gained 15 pounds in weight and is still gaining because of a rare operation which left him with what is probably the world's shortest esophagus for his age.

William Jones destroyed the lining of his esophagus a year ago by drinking potash his mother was using to scrub floors. Little hope was held for him until a Savannah surgeon patched up his esophagus a month ago.

The damaged section was removed and William's stomach brought up under his left lung and joined to the remaining four inches of esophagus. The operation was a success.

William, who was slowly starving to death because he could not swallow food, then weighed only 32 pounds. He now weighs 47 and is still gaining.

Not only that, but he romps cheerfully around the Georgia Infirmary where he has become a favorite of nurses and doctors alike. He is going home as soon as he gains another seven pounds, which won't be long, doctors say.

The surgeon said he believed it was the highest resection of the esophagus ever performed. He added that William might be slightly handicapped for a while by the crowding of his left lung, but that he would get along all right in the long run.

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the GIRLS are marching!

The experts are at it again! Yes, one expert reports that pedometers show that the average woman walks eight miles a day while doing housework. He may be right or he may be wrong—we don't know. But we'll all agree that most housewives cover a lot of ground during a day.

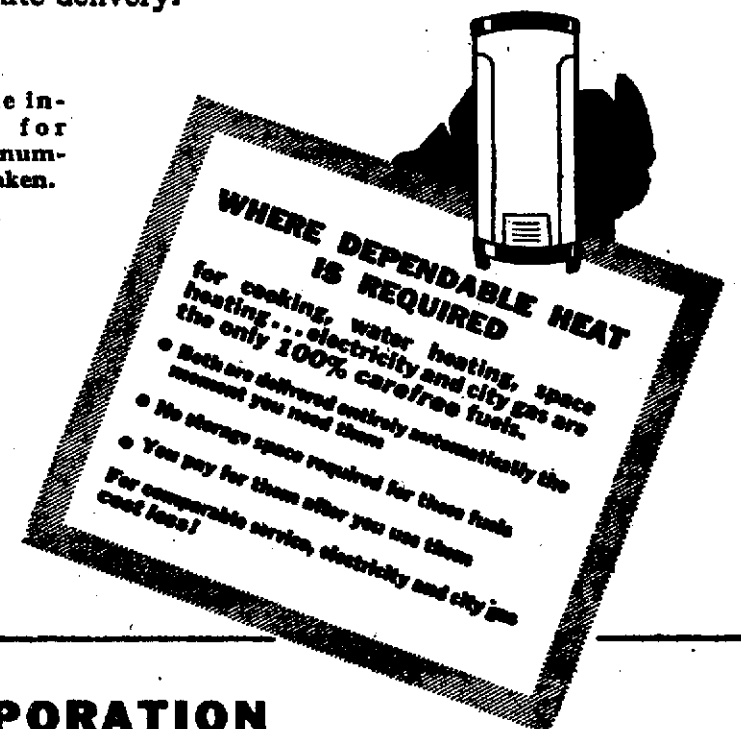

It all adds up to this: housework generally revolves around the use of hot water for dishwashing, laundry, cleaning and the like. It stands to reason that having instant hot water available anywhere in the house should make housework easier, steps fewer. That's one reason for having an Automatic Water Heater.

There are 51,000 other reasons! Approximately 51,000 times a year, in the average home—140 times a day—hot water is needed for everything from hand to baby washing. A time-and-labor saver Automatic Water Heater has hot water there every time a faucet is turned, smoothing out the day from first thing in the morning until last thing at night.

Local plumbers and appliance dealers have Automatic Water Heaters in stock for immediate delivery!

Helen Zoda Becomes Bride at St. Mary's Of John Ellsworth

Miss Helen Joan Zoda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zoda, 9 Valley street, became the bride Sunday at St. Mary's Church, of John J. Ellsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ellsworth, 22 Catskill avenue. The Rev. Edward Farrelly performed the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Alcobono was organist. Miss Winifred Entrott sang Ave Maria.

The bride was escorted by her brother-in-law, Anthony Buzzanco. She wore a broad satin gown designed with off-shoulder net yoke, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves, skirt with paniers of ruffles and a long train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a ruffled crown and clusters of baby lilies. She carried white roses.

Miss Bertha Zoda, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a yellow nylon gown with matching veil and headpiece of flowers. She carried pink roses.

John King, nephew of the bridegroom, was best man.

About 150 guests were received at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Out-of-town guests were present from New York. Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth left for a wedding trip to Canada. She wore an aqua suit, black accessories and corsage of pink roses. They will live at 22 Catskill avenue.

Chiefs Eliminate Colonials in Semi-Finals With 7 to 5 Win

Ostrom's Single Features Big Rally in Fifth Inning

A four-run uprising in the fourth inning highlighted by Billy "The Kid" Ostrom's two-run pinch single to center field valuted the Poughkeepsie Chiefs to a 7 to 5 victory over the Kingston Colonials Monday night at Riverview Field in Poughkeepsie as the Chiefs won the semi-final series of the post-season Colonial League playoffs by four games to one.

Poughkeepsie will now meet the winner of the Waterbury Timers and Port Chester Clippers semi-final series for the championship of the post-season playoffs.

The Chiefs, trailing by 4 to 2 at one time came from behind to knock off the Colonials in the fifth game of the series. The big four-run bulge in the fifth gave Eli Peterlic his second straight series triumph while Joe Kania, the first of three Kingston flingers, suffered the setback.

Ostrom, the fabulous gent who formerly wore the livery of the Kingston Recreations, delivered the payoff wallop in the big fifth with a solid single to center pushing across Steve Mizerak and Joe DeToia with the two runs that meant the difference of defeat and triumph for the local representatives.

Locals Score Early
Peterlic, who bested Kania in the first game at Riverview Field, didn't look as though he would last very long last night when he was clubbed for a pair of runs in the first when Ralph Matzer walked, Paul Dunlop doubled, Ed Kobesky walked and "Digger" Odell singled.

Kingston made it 3-0 in the second on Danny Palmer's single through Mizerak, Peterlic's wild pitch and an error by Johnny Morris allowing Palmer to race home.

Two big triples, one by Joe DeToia kicking back off the wall in left and another by Ed Faskiska, the ball taking a bad hop over Johnny Elenchin's outstretched glove in center, mixed up with a walk gave the Chiefs two runs in the third.

Kania just squeezed through the third when the Chiefs threatened with successive infield singles by Al Thomaier and Hal Leach. Mizerak bunted both runners along and DeToia was passed purposely to load the sacks. Manager Ed Kobesky's strategy worked perfectly as Chuck Quimby bounced into a fast double play started by Matzer.

A walk to Matzer, who later stole second and a rousing single by Ed McNamara gave Kingston its fourth run in the fourth.

Bedell Replaces Kania
Kania, who was belted for 10 hits in his four run tenure, no outs in the fifth when he went to the showers, was replaced by High Harry Bedell in the fifth during the Poughkeepsie outburst. Leach and Mizerak cracked Kania for successive doubles and DeToia beat out a perfect bunt along first sending Mizerak to third. After Quimby walked, Billy Ostrom was sent up to pinch hit for Eddie Irons and the

Schindler at Rhinebeck Oval

BILL SCHINDLER

All is in readiness at the Rhinebeck Speedway for the appearance of the top man in the midjet field, Bronco Bill Schindler, who bows in tonight for the first time at the Dutchess County Oval. Schindler heads a fast field of Offenhausers guaranteed to keep the fans in a fever of excitement tonight as starter Lou Volk sends the roaring peewees on their way.

While the chief competition for Schindler is expected to come from Dutch Schaeffer, Steve McGrath, Buddy Chase and Bob Disbrow, it may be one of the fast Fords that will pull a surprise and get up in front. Many fans are looking for a renewal of the Buffalo 200 lap feature, when Buddy Chase led for 170 laps, only to go out with bad brakes and have Schindler cop the win. With both pilots in tonight's Rhinebeck bill of speed, it may be a tussle between them for the top spot.

North Atlantic Loop Playoffs In Closing Stage

(By The Associated Press)

The North Atlantic League semi-final playoffs moved into the closing stage today with Bloomington leading the edge over Peekskill and Carbonate deadlocked with Mahanoy City.

Bloomington defeated the Peekskill Highlanders, winners of the regular season pennant, last night 5-0 to take a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven game series.

Carbonate last night turned back Mahanoy City 8-4 in the other semi-final series to go into a tie, three games each.

American Yacht Needs One Victory To Retain Gold Cup
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—One more victory will give the American defender, "Goose," the International Gold Cup yachting title.

The American craft, owned by George Nichols of Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., took the third race of the series yesterday in the waters off the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club. Sweden's "Maybe 6th," which was second to the American yacht, will continue to compete for the Gold Cup, Norway's "Elizabeth X," which failed to win in the first three races, has been eliminated from further competition.

"Goose" finished in 1 hour, 47 minutes and 24 seconds, only 23 seconds ahead of the Swedish yacht, which closed fast on the final leg.

The fourth race was to be held today, weather and wind permitting.

Ezzard Charles Outpoints Bivins; Wants to Box Louis

By ARTHUR EDSON

Washington, Sept. 14 (AP)—There's a growing suspicion that the boxer who succeeds Joe Louis as the heavyweight champion of the world isn't going to be another Louis.

Ezzard Charles, a light heavy who likes to mix with the big boys, heightened that suspicion last night.

True, the Cincinnati boy won a unanimous, though close, decision over Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland. True, too, it was a good performance, with lots of good boxing and a wildwind ending that brought the crowd of 11,631 to its feet.

But this fact was inescapable: Both the Ohio Negroes landed blows that, had they been tossed by Joe Louis in his prime, would have ended the fight.

And what happened to the Messrs. Bivins and Charles? Neither was knocked down, and neither was hurt. Louis' power was missing.

Yet the heavyweight situation is such that Charles' manager, Jake Mintz, was hollering after the fight.

"Charles is the next world champion. Bring on whoever you got."

The clue to this statement are the words, "whoever you get."

Look over the heavyweight crop, and you'll see the point; lots of good boys, but no Joe Louis in sight, so far.

Certainly Charles looked last night as if he has a long way to go before he can be an impressive heavyweight champion.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
The historic Polo Grounds is fast gaining a reputation as the graveyard of pennant hopes.

Burt Shotton brought his Brooklyn Dodgers into the lair of the New York Giants over the weekend for a four-game series and left the cigar box with only one victory.

The high-flying Pittsburgh Pirates showed up last night boasting a seven game winning streak and Lippy Leo Durocher's fence busters cooled them off, 5-2.

By knocking off the pursuers of the front-running Boston Braves, the Giants themselves are sticking very much in the running for the National League flag.

Giants in the Now

Last night's triumph boosted the Giants into a fourth place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals, the Cleveland Indians, the Philadelphia Phillies and the Chicago Cubs. The Giants and Cards are only .0005 of a percentage point behind the third place Dodgers, who also trail the Braves by 5½ games.

Lefty Monte Kennedy stopped the Pirates surge, scattering nine hits for his third triumph.

The Pirates opened in high gear scoring once in the first inning on a double by Johnny Hopp, an infield hit by Dixie Walker and Ralph Kiner's ground out.

But the Giants bounced back in their half, pouncing on southpaw Vic Lombardi, a former Giant killer, for three runs. They scored their runs on an error by Stan Ryke, Whitely Lockman's single, Sid Gordon's double and Willard Marshall's two-run out-bagger.

The Giants clipped Lombardi for another run in the second and completed their scoring in the sixth at the expense of Kirby Higbe. Kennedy gave up Pittsburgh's final run in the seventh.

Brooklyn wasted a third place from the Cards by dumping the Chicago Cubs, 6-4, in a night game at Brooklyn.

Dodgers Rally in Seventh
A four-run seventh inning rally enabled the Dodgers to overcome a 3-2 deficit and win. Two singles, two sacrifices, two errors, and two fly balls accounted for the runs.

Lefty Johnny Schmitz, an old Dodger nemesis, went the route for Chicago. Schmitz, who now has won 17 games and lost 12, entered the game boasting a 6-1 record over Brooklyn.

Rex Barney, who hurled a 2-0 no-hit triumph over the Giants last Thursday, went the distance for Brooklyn to gain his 14th win. He has lost 10.

Only one game was played in the American League, the St. Louis Browns upsetting the third place Indians, 3-2 at Cleveland. Pinchhitter Joe Schultz singled in the ninth with the bases full to enable the Browns to break a 2-2 tie and win.

The loss left the Tribe three full games behind the first place Boston Red Sox.

The Indians also lost the services of pitcher Don Black for the rest of the season. Black is in critical condition in a Cleveland hospital with a hemorrhage near the brain.

Black apparently twisted his neck when he hit a foul ball in the second inning. He fell at the plate and was helped from the field and later lost consciousness. Team physician Edward Castle, however, said Black had an excellent chance to recover.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting, Joe Schultz, Browns—Slammed a pinch-hit single with the bases loaded in the ninth to give St. Louis a 3-2 win over Cleveland.

Pitching, Monte Kennedy, Giants—Halted Pittsburgh's seven game winning streak by pitching Giants to a 5-2 triumph over Pirates.

Williamson Rating For '48 Grid Season

By PAUL B. WILLIAMSON

(Editor's Note)—Following is Williamson's pre-season survey of national football prospects. Watch how closely he calls the turn from week to week. Last fall, Williamson in his September preview story called the 1947 season's one-two squads to the extent of correctly naming 20 out of 36 teams in 18 different conferences and groups prognosticated upon therein.

Sometimes a football champion or leader repeats from one year to the next. But mostly they don't. To refute the last would mean, for example, to contend that prospectively Michigan or Notre Dame is almost bound to remain national football champion in 1948. Or, for that matter, the respective champion of each of the 126 grid conferences and groups of 1947 indubitably must, as a September starter, be assumed to repeat right on down the line for 1948 . . . and for 1949 . . . and for ad infinitum!

During the football season the Williamson system rates every team each week so that winners are most consistently ranked over losers and most of the tie games are charged to respective opponents in the same order of ratings. That applies only to the current season. Obviously, how a team is ranked this season is not dependent upon how it was ranked last season — or five years ago — or at the turn of the century.

Following is the Williamson selections for the 1948 national and sectional lineup:

Group	Champion	Runner-Up
National	Georgia Tech	Texas A.
East	Army	Villanova
Ivy	Columbia	Pennsylvania
Southern	North Carolina U.	William & Mary
Southeastern	Georgia Tech	Vanderbilt
South Independents	Virginia U.	Chattanooga
Southwest	Texas U.	Texas Christian
Big 10	Northwestern	Minnesota
Midwest Independents	Notre Dame	Michigan State
Big 7	Missouri U.	Nebraska U.
Missouri Valley Conf.	Oklahoma A. & M.	Detroit U.
Pacific Coast	California	Oregon
Pacific Coast Independents	Santa Clara	San Francisco
Border Conference	Texas Tech	Hardin-Simmons
Rockies Conference	Montana State	Colorado College
Big 6	Utah	Denver

Dark Horse Choices
Dark horses in the power brackets include Purdue, Wisconsin, Penn State, South Carolina (could be a real joker), Tulsa, Maryland, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma U., Ole Miss, U.C.L.A., S.M.U., Rice Princeton.

Teams with possible undefeated chances include Columbia, Mississippi State, West Virginia Wesleyan, Washburn, Upper Iowa, Mississippi College, Johns Hopkins, Heidelberg, Chadron, Carthage, City College of New York, Kilgore, Boise, Duluth J. C.

Good records in 1947, same or even better in 1948, St. Monavenure, Findlay, Macalester, Maine, Mansfield, Middlebury, Rollins, Rutgers, Southern Illinois U., Sal Ross, Southwestern Kansas, West Liberty, Canisius, Franklin.

Probably not world-beaters but should be definitely improved over 1947—Adelphi, Baylor, Boston U., California Aggies, Catholic U., Brown, Colgate, East Texas Baptist, Florida State U., Florida U., Long Island A. & M., Kansas State, Montana U., Oregon State, Pittsburgh, Alabama (Try) State, Tulane, Richmond U., Rio Grande, Rochester, St. Louis U., Susquehanna.

Drop-off from 1947 due to graduation—Alabama U., Cameron Aggs, Carroll, Cincinnati, Cornell, Dartmouth, Denison U., Dubuque, East Texas State, Ferris, Greeley State, Hope, Illinois U., Indiana Central, Kansas U., Kentucky, Kings Point, Lawrence, Louisiana State U., Magnolia A. & M., Michigan U., Navy, North Carolina State, Norfolk J.C., Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oklahoma U., Penn State, Pennsylvania U., Peru State, Princeton, Redlands U., San Francisco, Southern Methodist, Southern California U., Thiel, Tyler J.C., Ventura J.C., Westmar, Wichita, Yale and others.

As a matter of information, that probably is the largest number of major, minor and junior colleges and conferences and groups ever mentioned before in a seasonal pigskin preview which wanted to be specific right down the line.

Louise Brough After Four Tennis Titles

By AUSTIN BEALMEAN
Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., currently the best feminine tennis player among the world's amateurs, has outlined an ambitious program for herself.

If successful in defending her women's singles title in the national championships now under way at the West Side Tennis Club, the California blonde will seek an unprecedented grand slam.

She hopes to win, and holds simultaneously, the championships of the four great tennis playing nations, the United States, England, Australia and France—a feat never accomplished, even by such former net queens as Helen Wills, Alice Marble and Pauline Betz.

"I have accepted an invitation to play in Australia later this year," the 25-year-old Beverly Hills star disclosed today. "If I am fortunate enough to win the Australian championship, I will enter the French championships next summer before going to Wimbledon."

Miss Brough usually passes up the French tournament because it is played on clay and "comes too close to Wimbledon."

"But if I have a chance to win all four titles, I'll try to next summer," she said.

The top-seeded Californian made her way to the third round yesterday by eliminating Mrs. Dorothy Bundy Cheney of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-4, 6-2. With the round of 16 completed, and all the other seeded Americans still in the running, the women's upper bracket was to be reduced today to the quarterfinals of the tournament, meanwhile, half of the field had progressed to the fourth round with the seeded domestic ranks still intact. While four players battle for quarterfinal berths in the lower half today, the fourth round will be filled in the upper bracket.

The only fourth-round matches on the day's schedule send second-seeded Bill Talbot of New York against Eric Sturges of South Africa, fifth-seeded foreigner, and Earl Cochell of San Francisco, rated fifth in the domestic seedings, against tiny Feliciano Ampon of the Philippines. Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, fourth-seeded Wimbledon champ, made his debut yesterday with a 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3 triumph over George Richards of Los Angeles, which carried him into the third round against Budge Patty of Long Beach.

Moving to the women's third round along with Miss Brough yesterday were Mrs. Pat Todd of La Jolla, Calif., and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, seeded fourth and fifth respectively. Mrs. Todd whipped Mrs. Helen Rihby of Boston, 6-2, 6-2, and Miss Fry stopped Barbara Wilkins of New Rochelle, N. Y., 6-2, 7-5. They lost today, along with half a dozen other survivors in the lower bracket, while the top half bids for quarter final berths.

Giants, Bears Will Clash Tonight in Grid Benefit

Major league football—exemplified by the most-frequent eastern and western champions of the National Football League—arrives in New York tonight when the New York Giants meet the Chicago Bears at the Polo Grounds in the 10th annual Felt Air Fund game.

Laden with rookie stars like Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack and Texas' Bobby Layne, and led by the incomparable Sid Luckman, the Bears will make their only New York appearance of the season in resuming their 23-year-old rivalry with the Giants for the first time since 1946.

The Giants, who have even more 1947 college All-Americans on their roster than the Bears, will open their home season after one of the greatest overhauls any pro football team has ever received. Among their newcomers are Charley Conner, the nation's leading and record-breaking college passer last year at Mississippi; Columbia's Bill Swinicki, whose acrobatic catches ended Army's defeatless streak; Pennsylvania's Skipper Minisi, Penn State's Joe Wolosky, Michigan's Jim Brieske, San Francisco's Joe

Scott and a host of others.

Expect Air Duel
Highlighting the contest for local fans will be the personal duel between Luckman and the Giants' Paul Gornall, Luckman's successor at Columbia before the war. Sid from Brooklyn and Paul from the Bronx will clash for the first time in their home town.

Passing and high-scoring will be the game's keywords, since both teams have devoted their six-week training periods to developing the offense. The Giants, under Steve Owen traditionally the league's toughest defensive club, have installed a winged-T attack in which any one of three backs in the same unit can throw. The Bears, who made the straight T famous with their 1941 "super team," have it functioning as devastatingly as ever with the same Luckman to operate it.

The Bears will be decided favorites tonight on the basis of their exhibition game showings. They have beaten the Pittsburgh Steelers (28-14), the eastern champion Philadelphia Eagles (24-23, in the last minute) and the Boston Yanks twice (42-7 and 28-14). The Giants dropped two early games, 7-0 to Green Bay and 23-20 to the Detroit Lions.

Alvin Boice Gets Hole-in-One At Twaalfskill Blind Bogey

Bears Are Favored
New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Chicago Bears are favored to spoil the New York Giants home debut tonight in an exhibition game between two National Football League rivals, played at the Polo Grounds for the benefit of the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund. A crowd of over 40,000 is expected by kickoff time, 8:30 p. m.

Blind bogey sweepstakes featured the play at the Twaalfskill on Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday Clarence Beecher and Ernie Schirmer had a net of 70 and on Sunday a quartet comprised of C. Beecher, H. LeFevre, W. Fitzgerald and Dr. Levitas tied for first place with a net 70.

Over the week-end Alvin Boice had a hole in one on the par four No. 4 hole.

Saturday evening another successful buffet supper-dance was enjoyed.

Bud Swarthout is scheduled to pitch for Morgan's and Clark Mains is down to oppose him on the mound for Chez Emile.

In 20 innings he hurled for the Morgan's in their three games with the Gulfers, Barnes allowed only one run, gave 10 hits, struck out 28 batters and walked five.

Last evening Morgan's scored their runs in two innings the third and fifth.

Brinkman singled in the third, Tierney was safe on a sacrifice felder's choice; Vogt singled leading the bases. Brinkman scored on a walk to Swarthout. Tierney crossed the plate on Hennessey's infield out. Vogt tallied the third run when Gortline dropped Sol's fly in centerfield.

Swarthout doubled in the fifth and scored on Sonny Barnes' single to give the Morgan's their other run.

Low Cost Roads Possible
Portland, Ore., Sept. 14 (AP)—Low cost roads made out of chemically toughened dirt now are possible because of recent advances in soil stabilization, a Princeton University scientist asserted today. The toughening process is done by adding plastics or other chemicals to the soil that is to form the traffic lanes. Paving which can withstand pressures even better than concrete can be made cheaply, Dr. Hans F. Winterkorn told the American Chemical Society.

Garbage Is Upset
A gang of youths about 8:30 p. m. Monday went into the back yards on Downs street near Wilkyck avenue and upset a number of garbage and ash containers, dumping the contents on back porches in several instances, according to a complaint received at police headquarters. Patrolmen Charles Hoehing and Walter Van Steenburgh were dispatched to check the area, but reported the youths had already left.

Horse and Mule Decline
The number of horses and mules on U. S. farms declined from about 24 million in 1910 to about nine million in 1948.

Davenport Combine Wins, Wiltwyck Rout Stamford

Maurice and Dick Davenport spread-eagled a field of 10 teams to win the first annual Father and Son Tournament staged at the Wiltwyck Club on Saturday. Superlative golf played by the senior Davenport on the first nine got them off well in front and the High Falls pair teamed nicely on the back nine to win under wraps.

Low net honors fell to the combine of Philip and Frank Stone. They shot 36-40 for a gross 76 and playing with handicaps of 20 left little doubt as to who was the class of the low net field. Philip Stone's play was especially outstanding on some of Wiltwyck's toughest holes. His 4-3-4 finish on the last three holes of the front nine was the envy of the field and a big help to son, Frank.

Second low net was taken by A. T. Hutton and Ted Hutton with a fine 59. A. A. Davis Sr. and Junior tied with Ad Schultz and Dick Schultz at 63 for third place.

The scores:
1. Davenport-Dick Davenport 73-10-83; Philip Stone-Frank Stone 76-20-56; A. A. Davis Sr.-A. A. Davis Jr. 86-23-63; Ad Schultz-Dick Schultz 82-23-63; T. Hutton-Ted Hutton 87-29-59; Bill Zwick-Eddie Zwick 87-22-63; D. H. Smith-Dudley Smith 88-24-64; Rev. R. T. Shellenberger-Bob Shellenberger 95-27-68; Charles Arnold Sr.-Charles Arnold Jr. 100-30-70; Herman Schwenk Sr.-Herman Schwenk Jr. 101-30-71.

King Takes Few Seconds to Read Anti-Lords Speech

London, Sept. 14 (AP)—King George VI rode in royal splendor to Westminster today and asked Parliament—in 74 cautious words—to curtail the ancient power of his lords.

His terse speech opened a special 10-day session of Parliament and a bitter political battle between the Labor government and the Conservative opposition of Winston Churchill.

The king asked the legislators to "amend the Parliament Act of 1911," by which the Labor government intends to cut in half the two-year period in which the House of Lords can delay legislation. This is intended to help the government ram through one of its most controversial measures—nationalization of the iron and steel industry before the general elections of 1950.

It seems destined to be one of the most controversial legislative sessions of recent history.

Thousands of spectators lined the route of royal procession to see the monarch and Queen Elizabeth ride from Buckingham Palace in an Irish state coach, last used at Princess Elizabeth's wedding.

But—like the royal address, written for the king by his Labor ministers—the royal ceremonies were cut short. The royal couple took the shortest route from Buckingham Palace to the Houses of Parliament. The state opening of Parliament was the shortest on record. The entire ceremony lasted four minutes, with the King re-

The Walker home was near that of Cornelius V. V. Sewell at the Bearville approach to Byrdcliffe in a heavily wooded area.

None of the furnishings and little of the Walkers' personal effects was saved, the fire chief said. No estimate of damage was made today.

All residents of that section of Byrdcliffe were fearful of a spread of the fire through the woods and some were prepared to move.

The Walkers were to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ostrander on the Rock City road, this village.

Newkirk Anxious Freedom Train Be Brought to City

Because a published article has left some doubt as to whether the New York State Freedom Train will stop at Kingston, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk on Monday sent a letter to Gerald H. Salisbury of Albany, chairman of the Freedom Train Committee, urging that this city be included among the scheduled stops and pointing out some of the historical significance of the city. The mayor's letter follows:

An article appearing in the New York Herald Tribune dated September 4 announced that "arrangements were completed yesterday for the assembly and conditioning of a six-car New York State Freedom Train, which will tour the state for a year beginning at a yet to be announced date."

This article also stated "it is planned to send the train to each community with a surrounding population of 35,000 or more." If this be a fact, the City of Kingston with a population of approximately 30,000 will be excluded from having the Freedom Train appear in Kingston.

I trust that I misinterpreted the meaning of this statement. The City of Kingston with a population of 30,000 and the surrounding territory, or the County of Ulster, outside the City of Kingston, has an additional population of approximately 50,000, which, according to the newspaper statement, might include us in the Freedom Train's appearance here.

I trust that, in the event Kingston has been definitely excluded from the Freedom Train tour, your honorable committee will reconsider and include the city of Kingston in the tour for the following reasons:

Kingston (Roundout) is the third oldest settlement in New York state, preceded only by New York city and Albany; it was the birthplace of the constitutional government of the state of New York, since here the Constitution was adopted; it was New York state's first capital; it was the birthplace and burial place of New York state's first governor; contains the Senate House, the oldest public building in the United States, in which are a wealth of materials associated with our colonial history; also, within Kingston and the surrounding towns can be found the largest collection of colonial stone buildings in America.

Fine Is Tardy

Santa Rosa, Calif. (AP)—Nine years ago Justice of the Peace L. E. Fulwider fined a man $50 for a traffic violation. The man moved out of the state without paying it. Then the other day he turned up after his unpaid fine had been found in the records when he tried to obtain a driver's license. He said he had thought all along that his wife had paid it nine years ago. Judge Fulwider accepted the explanation—and the $50.

Dewey Plans . . .

proposal, but that he did not commit himself. His conference with the New York governor, Kline added, covered farm problems in general. He said the meeting was arranged at his request, and that he also had discussed the same situation with President Truman.

A reporter wanted to know whether Kline agreed with Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that the Republicans were trying to kill the farm price support program.

"No," Kline replied, "and I don't think Gov. Dewey would object to being quoted as saying he is in favor of the long range farm program, because he is." Kline said he was referring to the farm bill enacted by Congress last July. It provides for continuing the present support program through 1949, with a revised schedule effective at the start of 1950.

Kline predicted that meat prices would be lower next year because of the big corn harvest.

"All people have to do," he said, "is keep their shirts on."

Kline said the farm federation never endorses any presidential candidate. He added that the organization represents 1,300,000 farm families.
